Share your research data on SARS-CoV-2/COVID-19

We can help you!

Is your research data already published in a repository?

YES

NO

Your research data is already sharable, and this is great!
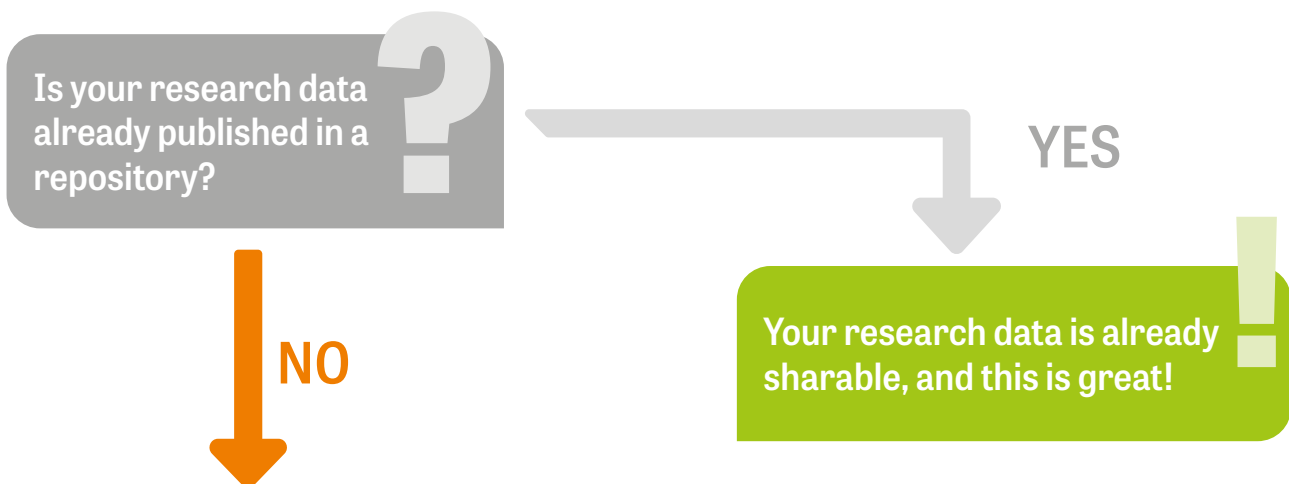

Share your research data via the Repository for Life Sciences

The repository allows the publication of non-sensitive data under an open license

ZB MED will help you to:

- Publish your data with the proper metadata

- Assign a DOI to your data

- Check issues such as copyright, data protection, documentation, formatting and technical reusability and integrity
